WELCOME TO KRAKÓW

Cześć (Polish — rather informal — for “Hello”) and welcome to Kraków — we’re glad you have chosen our museum as the place of your internship/volunteering service!

With this guide we want to make your start as easy as possible by providing the most important information about the city of Kraków as well as the Galicia Jewish Museum and the life here. We can comfortably say that you will soon feel at home here.

As you have probably already learnt, Kraków has around 800,000 inhabitants with many of them being (international) students. Many describe the city as the most beautiful in all of Poland. While that is of course quite subjective, the city certainly has lots of interesting architecture to offer — as you might have already recognized.

That being said, we wish you all the best for your stay at the museum and in Kraków!

i

cześć ≅ [tʂɛʦtɕ]

“Cześć” is somewhat pronounced like “chesht”.

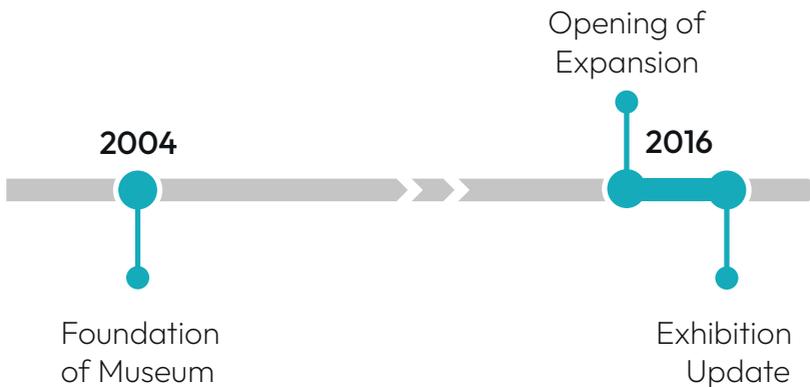

THE MUSEUM

The main focus of the Museum is not only to commemorate the numerous victims of the Holocaust, but also celebrating the Jewish life which was flourishing in Galicia before 2nd world war. The Galicia Jewish Museum exists since 2004 and was established by photojournalist Chris Schwarz. Together with anthropologist Prof. Jonathan Webber he brought the project "Traces of Memory" to life. That's how the museum's core exhibition was created. Later, in 2016, the exhibition was updated with photographs of American photographer Jason Francisco. The exhibition deals with the Jewish heritage that has been existing since more than thousand years in Polish Galicia. It tries to teach about this history by showing photos of the traces that are still there for us to see today.

In total, the museum consists of two permanent exhibitions as well as constantly changing temporary exhibitions.

THE MUSEUM

The GJM consists of different departments such as the Educational Department or the Operational Department. As an Intern/Volunteer you're going to be part of the Educational Department of which a contact person is assigned to all volunteers and interns – this person will also be responsible for you. Overall the museum employs over 20 people with the director being the head of the museum. You can look up the current staff on the website.

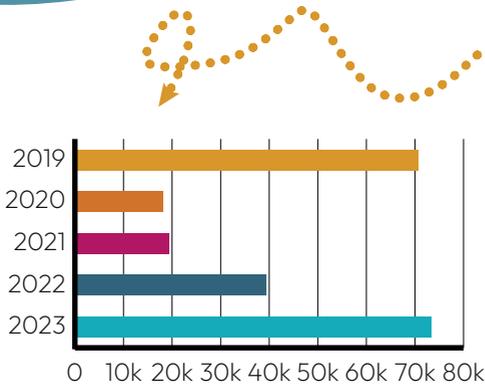

GJM is a non governmental organization and is therefore not getting funded by any official institution but rather relies on grants and donations as well as its own operational income.

The building that houses the museum, was once used as a mill, although today in the renovated building only the industrial look reminds of these past times. To gain more space, the museum was extended in 2016.

THE MUSEUM - QUICK FACTS

INTERNSHIP

During your internship/voluntary service you will be performing lots of different tasks, depending on your interests as well as the length of your stay (e. g. you won't give tours if you just stay for a few weeks). However, in general there are 3 main fields you'll be working in:

1. Guiding (and preparing to guide) as well as doing workshops
2. Visitor service (attending and helping at events)
3. Projects and other tasks (very diverse)

If you are interested in one field specifically, it's likely that you are going to be able

Doing an internship in Krakow and in this museum is a great experience that I'll never forget. I'm glad to be here, glad to have so many good people around me [...].

Nathanaël, intern | 2025 to work in it after consulting your contact person. If there are any questions you come across you can always approach your contact person or really anybody from the education department.

INTERNSHIP

GUIDING

For interns and volunteers, that stay for a longer period, guiding is a key part of your work at the GJM. In order to be able to conduct an appropriate tour, you need to prepare for it, of course. Depending on your prior knowledge regarding Jewish culture and Jewish history (in Poland) your preparation might vary. For short summaries of Jewish topics you might want to have a look at the UNPACKED YT-channel.

@UNPACKED

Once you have been assigned to a tour, remember to click on the 'Yes' button.

In concern of the exhibition itself, you will receive a digital version of the exhibition as well as a catalogue/book called “Rediscovering Traces of Memory” which accompanies the main exhibition. Additionally, you're of course welcome to use all the books you can find in the interns office (If you ask nicely also from the bookshop). Another key part of the preparation is listening to other people conducting them.

After you feel ready giving tours, you will need to give a test tour to somebody of the Education department.

INTERNSHIP

✓ VISITOR SERVICE

Every now and then, you may be asked to provide reception services in the evening when there is an event. Your main task will be to simply be present at the reception. Occasionally, the Operational Department will also need your assistance with setting up and dismantling for these events. For example, you may be asked to arrange the chairs for the participants. If help is needed, you will receive all the necessary information.

✓ OTHER TASKS

Another important aspect of your work at the GJM involves different projects. These can be very versatile and can range from organising a charity event (such as the Mitzvah Day in November) to sending crocus bulbs (as part of the 'Crocus Project', whereby the museum sends a crocus bulb for every Jewish child who perished in the Holocaust to participating Polish schools. This project takes place annually and usually starts in September.). You will be provided with all necessary information in advance for all projects. If you are interested in how a particular project was implemented, you can look up the blog posts written by the previous interns.

On top of to what was mentioned previously, you may occasionally be asked to complete smaller tasks. However, your contact person will provide you with detailed information about these when the time comes.

INTERNSHIP

Generally, working hours depend on your specifications and wishes. You're free to come to the museum daily between around 9:30 and 18:00. Once you have reached an agreement with those in charge, you will be required to enter your estimated arrival and departure times in the digital 'Schedule' that you will receive. If you have been assigned to give a guided tour or a workshop, you will, of course, need to be at the museum at the scheduled times. If you are on evening reception duty, you can expect work times from around 6 p.m. to around 8.30 p.m.

As mentioned before, the interns also run a blog, for which you will occasionally be asked to write a post.

galiciainterns.wordpress.com

Your main workplace is the interns office in the museum, or rather the museum in general. If you have some tasks that can also be done from home, homeoffice shouldn't be a problem either. Occasionally, the interns and volunteers have to get marketing material from a printing shop (🖨️), bring letters or parcels to the post office (📬), or distribute flyers and invitation letters to the museum's partners.

IMPORTANT PLACES

OLD TOWN

Kraków's Old Town is the historic city centre surrounded by the Planty ("Plants") Park. Originating in medieval times, the Old Town today is part of the UNESCO World Heritage List. The unique shape of the area is due to the defensive walls that once surrounded it. The walls have been destroyed by the Austrian empire and today are almost entirely gone except for a small section. However, most of the medieval buildings have survived and therefore give the Old Town an authentic atmosphere.

MAIN SQUARE

RYNEK GŁÓWNY

Kraków's Main Square, the Rynek Główny, is one of Europe's largest medieval plazas and the heart of the Old Town. Lined with cafés and restaurants, it features landmarks like the Cloth Hall in the centre. The Cloth Hall is a unique renaissance building showing the long trading tradition of Kraków. Today it still accommodates merchant stalls, and is also housing the Sukiennice Museum on the upper floor. Located beneath the market square you can find one of the most-visited museums of Kraków. Rynek Underground is a modern museum displaying the whole history of the city. On the eastern side the St. Mary's Basilica stretches towards the sky. Every full hour the famous bugle call is being played from here.

WAWEL

WAWEL

Situated next to the Vistula River, the Wawel looms over the city. Once a royal residence, the castle is now a symbol of Poland's rich heritage and history. Perched on Wawel Hill, the castle boasts impressive Gothic, Renaissance and Baroque architecture, as well as royal chambers and the Wawel Cathedral, the traditional coronation site of Polish kings. Today, different parts of the vast site can be visited separately. (Keep an eye out for days with free admission for certain parts of the Wawel.)

IMPORTANT PLACES

KAZIMIERZ

Founded in the 14th century as an independent city, Jewish life of Kazimierz started to flourish after 1495. At the end of the 18th century it was integrated into Kraków under Austrian rule but remained the center of Jewish life. Today, that face has unfortunately changed drastically with the Holocaust bringing Jewish life to an abrupt end. In fact, the district has now become a vibrant nightlife hotspot. Nevertheless, across the district there are still many signs of what once was and important sights to see.

OLD SYNAGOGUE

STARA SYNAGOGA

The Old Synagogue is the city's oldest surviving Jewish house of worship and a landmark of Gothic synagogue architecture. Once the center of communal and religious life, it now serves as a museum of Jewish history and culture.

5

REMAH CEMETERY & SYNAGOGUE

SYNAGOGA REMU

The Remah Synagogue is an active place of worship founded by Rabbi Moses Isserles's family. Beside it, the Remah Cemetery holds his grave and centuries-old tombstones.

IMPORTANT PLACES

NEW JEWISH CEMETERY

NOWY CMENTARZ ŻYDOWSKI

Although not located in Kazimierz anymore, the new Jewish cemetery still is of particular interest in regard to Jewish culture. Established in 1800 the place has a rich history. Today it is a peaceful and evocative place to go for a walk.

7

Miodowa

PODGÓRZE

Founded as an independent city in the 18th century, Podgórze is today part of Kraków, located in the larger city district called Podgórze too. The district offers a more communal atmosphere as well as natural beauty. However, Podgórze also has a terrible history with the former Jewish ghetto being on its area.

SCHINDLER'S FACTORY

FABRYKA SCHINDLERA

Schindler's Factory, once Oskar Schindler's enamelware plant, now houses a museum about the city during Nazi occupation. Exhibits trace daily life under German rule and tell the story of how Schindler helped save hundreds of Jewish workers.

IMPORTANT PLACES

JEWISH GHETTO MEMORIAL

PLAC BOHATERÓW GETTA

Located at the Plac Bohaterów Getta (Ghetto Heroes Square) the memorial commemorates the victims of the Polish Jews that were imprisoned here. The square used to be the centre of the former Jewish ghetto (existing from 1941 to 1943) that was established by the Nazis during the occupation of Poland. Today the square features a powerful memorial that consists of oversized metal chairs, symbolizing the possessions that those imprisoned took with them to the ghetto and had to leave behind as well as the absence of those who once sat there.

NOWA HUTA

Nowa Huta is district of Kraków, located in the very eastern part. Built around the vast Lenin Steelworks, it was designed to embody communist ideals — with grand avenues, symmetrical layouts, and monumental architecture meant to serve the working class. Known for its wide avenues, monumental architecture, and strong working-class history, it's now a fascinating blend of communist-era heritage and modern urban life.

COMMUNICATION

If you're staying for a longer time, or you're from outside of the EU (the roaming fees might be quite costly) getting a Polish phone number might be a good idea. Please note that you have to identify yourself with an official document.

TRANSPORT

For regular transfer around the city of Kraków, the public transport (consisting of more than 20 tram and dozens of bus lines) is a great way for doing so. For purchasing tickets there are a few popular ways:

JAKDOJADE APP

With this app you can look up the best route to where you need to go. You can also check the routes of all tram and bus lines across Kraków, as well as trains. Additionally, you can buy short term tickets directly in the app.

TICKET MACHINES

Image: flaticon.com

If you prefer your ticket to be analogue, you can get them from ticket machines at major stops or even on-board trams and buses. However, if you do so, don't forget to validate (stamp) all paper tickets after entering (or after you bought the ticket on-board) at the small machines near the entrance doors..

TRANSPORT

SEASON TICKETS

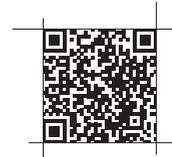

For longer periods, a so called „Kraków City Card“ is likely to be the best option. To get it you have to:

- fill in the appropriate application
- present a document confirming identity
- and submit a photo.

For more information on how to acquire such card please visit the website of KMK:

ztp.krakow.pl/en/kmk-public-transport/buy-a-kmk-ticket

WALKING AND CYCLING

If you want to save some money, walking through the city is also a great way of mobility, as Kraków is (especially in the centre) very walkable. Additionally, you can explore new streets and buildings while commuting to the place you need to get to. If walking takes too long, cycling around the city is another popular way to commute around Kraków. E.g. on the website “olx.pl”, which was already mentioned in the “Housing” section, you can purchase a used bike for very little money.

TRANSPORT

If you're planning on visiting other cities in Poland or even abroad, taking the train or long a distance bus is often a good option.

MAIN RAILWAY STATION

KRAKÓW GŁÓWNY

Almost every bigger Polish city can be reached by train without changing. Warsaw, for example, has a great connection to Kraków with trains leaving at least every hour. Additionally, there are numerous international routes to cities like Berlin, Prague or Vienna. The station itself is also well connected to the city's public transport with multiple tram lines and many bus lines stopping there.

10 a

CENTRAL BUS STATION

MAŁOPOLSKIE
DWORCE AUTOBUSOWE

Located right next to the main railway station, the central bus station offers a good alternative for long distance travelling. There are different operators, with Flixbus being the most popular. Many Polish but also international cities can be reached from the central bus station.

FINANCE

The official currency of Poland is the Złoty (PLN or zł). The value may fluctuate as it is not pegged to the Euro or any other currency.

EXCHANGE

You can exchange money, at banks, ATMs or currency exchange offices (so-called Kantors).

If you want to pay by card you will be able to do so at most places. However, if you want to purchase something at one of the local markets, you are likely to need some cash.

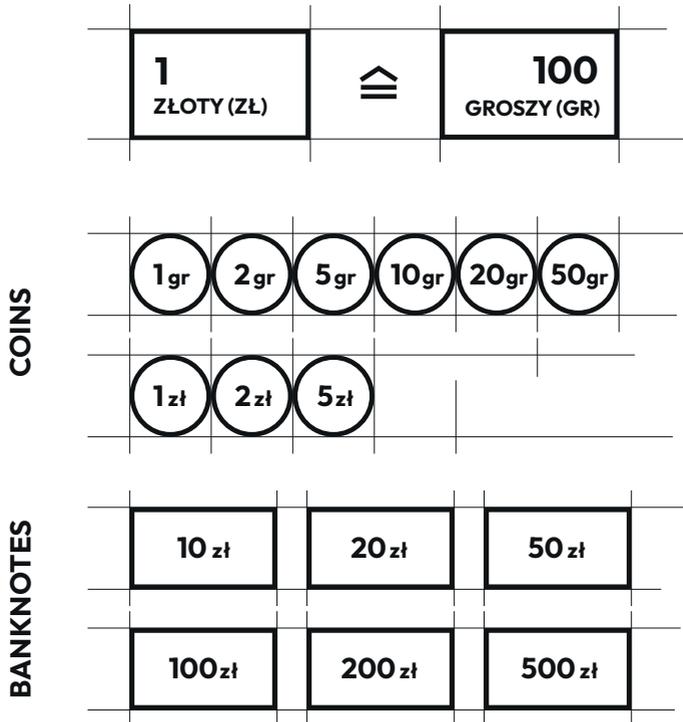

When exchanging money at an exchange office, compare the exchange rates and avoid touristy areas.

If you withdraw Złoty from an ATM you should pay attention to the costly fees some might charge. It is recommended to avoid private ATMs such as those from Euronet because of the fees.

FINANCE

The Złoty is divided in 100 Groszy. Coins and banknotes in the following denominations are in circulation:

POLISH BANK ACCOUNT

If the fees of your foreign house bank are too high in Poland, you might want to consider creating a Polish bank account. To do so, you first have to get a so-called PESEL number at the city council (Wydział Spraw Administracyjnych Urzędu Miasta). And you'll often also need a Polish phone number!

Information provided without guarantee. Do your own research.

REGENERATION

The hustle and bustle in a rather big city can be quite exhausting and it is important to relax and regenerate from time to time. In and around Kraków there are numerous recreation areas and parks to experience beautiful nature.

ZAKOPANE

Zakopane is the biggest winter sport centre of Poland. The city also functions as a starting point for many beautiful hiking routes in the surrounding mountains, as well as busses taking you there.
